CHARGES FILED IN SHOOTING AT JEWISH FEDERATION

King County Prosecutor Norm Maleng today announced the filing of aggravated murder and attempted murder charges against Naveed Haq, who is accused of forcing his way into the Jewish Federation in downtown Seattle last Friday and shooting six women.

Haq, 30, is being charged with a total of nine felonies, which include one count of aggravated murder in the first degree and five counts of attempted murder in the first degree. The charge of aggravated murder in the first degree carries a sentence of either the death penalty or life in prison without release.

Haq is also being charged with one count of kidnapping in the first degree for forcing a 14-year-old girl at gunpoint to let him into the building. In addition, prosecutors are charging the defendant with one count of burglary in the first degree and one count of malicious harassment, a charge which is used in the prosecution of hate crimes.

"But make no mistake, this was a hate crime. The attack on these women was an attack on the Jewish community, not only in Seattle, but throughout our nation and the world," Maleng said.

When he arrived at the Jewish Federation building, the defendant was armed with two handguns and extra ammunition. After forcing his way into the building, he is alleged to have made several statements directing anger toward Jews and then began shooting.

Pamela Waechter was killed in the attack. Dayna Klein, Carol Goldman, Christina Rexroad, Layla Bush and Cheryl Stumbo were shot and wounded.

The defendant is being held in the King County Jail without bail pending arraignment on August 10. Maleng will have 30 days from the time of arraignment to decide whether to ask a jury to consider the death penalty if Haq is convicted.

State v. Haq -- Statement of King County Prosecutor Norm Maleng

This morning we gather to announce the charges in last Friday's shocking attack on the staff of the Jewish Federation building in downtown Seattle.

On Monday I attended the memorial service for Pamela Waechter who was murdered in the attack. The service was held at her synagogue, the Temple B'nai Torah in Bellevue.

It was a deeply moving service that began with a brief and simple ceremony.

The Ark was opened, and the Torah removed. The Ark stood empty. Rabbi Mirel pointed out that the Ark was now empty, a symbol of emptiness and loneliness for those who came to remember this remarkable woman, Pamela Waechter.

And then those gathered in the Synagogue celebrated her life.

When it was over, we in the Criminal Justice system were left to do our duty.

Yesterday I met with leaders of the Jewish Federation and prominent rabbis in the Jewish community.

The shock, anger and dismay over Friday's attack remains strong.

It is still difficult for people to believe that this senseless and violent act occurred in our city, so far from the violence and tension in the Middle East.

But make no mistake: this was a hate crime. The attack on these women was an attack on the Jewish community, not only in Seattle, but throughout our nation and the world.

The victims were killed and injured, not because of who they were as individuals, but because the defendant wanted to use them as symbols, to strike at members of the Jewish faith everywhere.

The evidence shows, and we allege, that Naveed Haq chose his target, the Jewish Federation and the people inside, because he decided that it would be a convenient local symbol representing the nation of Israel and the Jewish people throughout the world.

We allege that the defendant Haq used two large caliber handguns to confront a 14-year old girl, who was using the keypad security system at the Jewish Federation offices, forcing her to let him inside the door.

Haq walked down the hall of the Federation offices, firing .40 and .45 caliber handguns into offices as he walked by.

He shot and killed Pamela Waechter.

He shot and wounded Dayna Klein.

He shot and wounded Carol Goldman.

He shot and wounded Christina Rexroad.

He shot and wounded Layla Bush.

He shot and wounded Cheryl Stumbo.

Within a few moments, one person was dead, five others lay wounded.

Despite being shot in the arm, one of the victims had the presence of mind, in the midst of this horror, to call 9-1-1.

She then handed the phone to the defendant Haq.

The evidence will show that Haq admitted to the victims and the 911 operator that he was there because he was upset with Israeli foreign policy.

He identified himself as an American Muslim, and made statements, moments after he shot 6 defenseless women, that, "These are Jews and I'm tired of getting pushed around and our people getting pushed around by the situation in the Middle East."

Somehow, miraculously, the telephone call stopped the violence. Within minutes of talking with the 911 operator, Haq agreed to surrender.

In order to make his political statement, he left a wake of tears, serious wounds, and death.

It is our duty to charge crimes that accurately reflect the seriousness of the act.

This is one of the most serious hate crimes that has ever occurred in our community. We are responding today with the most serious charges under law:

We are charging Naveed Haq with the following crimes:

1. Aggravated murder in the first degree, for the killing of Pamela Waechter. The aggravating factor alleged is that the premeditated murder occurred during the course of a first-degree burglary.

2. Kidnapping in the first degree, for the act of using firearms to force the 14-year-old girl, the niece of a Jewish Federation employee, to let him inside.
3. Five counts of attempted first-degree murder, each with a firearm allegation, for the shooting of the 5 women I just named;
4. Burglary in the first degree, for the armed entry into the locked building;
5. And Malicious Harassment, our state's hate crime statute.

If convicted as charged, the defendant will face either the death penalty or life in prison without possibility of release.

I will make that decision over the next several months. As you know, by statute I have 30 days from arraignment to decide whether a jury should have the death penalty option before them.

One thing is clear: the world has gotten to be a smaller place. We feel, here at home, the tensions of military conflict on the other side of the globe.

We feel, here at home, the fear of terrorism perpetrated in places far away.

And we know that local people can use violence against innocent victims to try and insert themselves into a global conflict.

We will speak clearly on this point: there is no place for hate crimes in our community.

They are intended to cause fear within every member of the targeted group.

Hate crimes tear at the diverse tapestry of our society.

Hate crimes tear at the very fabric of our soul.

They leave us afraid, angry, and in mourning.

And we are left to do our duty.

CAUSE NO. 06-1-06658-4 SEA

CERTIFICATION FOR DETERMINATION OF PROBABLE CAUSE

That Dana Duffy is a detective with the City of Seattle Police Department and has reviewed the investigation conducted in Seattle Police Department Case Number 06-313988:

There is probable cause to believe that Naveed Afzal Haq committed the crimes of Aggravated Murder in the First Degree, Attempted Murder in the First Degree, Burglary in the First Degree, Kidnapping in the First Degree, Assault in the First Degree, Assault in the Second Degree and Malicious Harassment, all committed with a firearm. This belief is predicated on the following facts and circumstances:

On 7-28-2006, 14-year-old [REDACTED] was in Seattle attending an art camp. She had been staying with her aunt, Cheryl Stumbo, who worked at the Jewish Federation of Greater Seattle which is located at 2031 Third Ave, City of Seattle, County of King and State of Washington. At approximately 3:50 p.m., [REDACTED] approached the front entrance of the Jewish Federation. The Jewish Federation is located on the second floor of a secure building. To gain entry into this building, one must be let in by someone inside or enter the security code into a keypad at the building's front entrance on the west side of Third Avenue. As [REDACTED] approached the building's front entrance, Naveed Afzal Haq, DOB 9/23/75, who had been standing inside the building's vestibule, pulled out a gun, put it to [REDACTED]'s back and told her "open the door." With no options available to her, [REDACTED] buzzed the intercom and said she was Cheryl's niece. As [REDACTED] reached for the intercom button, Haq said "careful." She was let into the building. Haq, who had a second handgun, extra ammunition, and a knife, closely followed [REDACTED] into the building, his gun still pointed to the middle of her back. As they entered the building, Haq said, "I'm only doing this for a statement."

4 Haq followed [REDACTED] up the stairs that led to the reception area for the Jewish Federation.
5 When they reached Layla Bush's reception desk, Haq asked to see the manager. [REDACTED]
6 continued walking, went into a nearby restroom and locked herself into a stall. A few moments
7 later she heard gunshots and someone yelling call 911. Finding her aunt's cell phone in her bag,
8 [REDACTED] called for help.

9 Haq turned his attention to receptionist Layla Bush. He asked for a manager. While Bush 10 when back to get Marketing Director Cheryl Stumbo, Haq readied his gun and then followed. As 11 Haq came up behind Bush, Stumbo told Carol Goldman, who was sitting in a cubicle nearby, to 12 call 911. Before Goldman could make the call, Haq fired his gun at her, striking her in the knee.
13 Goldman dove beneath her desk. Haq continued to shoot, hitting Bush in the abdomen and left 14 shoulder and Stumbo in the abdomen. Moving through the office, Haq shot Christina Rexroad in 15 the abdomen and shot Pamela Waechter in the left chest. Waechter ran toward the stairs, a hand 16 clutched to her left chest. Haq followed Waechter to the top of the stairs. Extending his arm and 17 gun over the railing, he took aim and fired. The bullet struck Waechter in the skull in the right ear, 18 killing her. Waechter fell and came to rest on a landing in the stairwell. Associate King County
19 Medical Examiner Dr. Aldo Fusaro determined the wound to Waechter's head was the cause of her 20 death. Dr. Fusaro ruled Waechter's death a homicide.

21 Hearing the gunshots but not recognizing them as such, Dayna Klein got up from her desk
22 and walked to her office door. Klein, who is 17 weeks pregnant, and Haq got to the door at the 23 same time. Haq shot toward Klein's abdomen, the bullet struck her in her arm that she had a 24 moment earlier put up to protect her unborn child. Klein crumbled to the floor and crawled over to 25 her desk. Although she heard Haq announcing that "nobody better call 911", Klein dialed the 26 phone. As Klein provided information to the 911 operator, Haq returned to Klein's office and put 27 a gun to her head. Haq said "now you are my hostage because you didn't follow directions." Haq 28 told Klein to have the 911 operator call CNN. He said he didn't care what happened to him. With 29 the gun pointed directly at her, Klein asked Haq if he wanted to talk to the operator. Haq took the 30 phone and began to talk

31 Haq told the operator that "this is a hostage situation, I have a hostage." When asked his 32 name, he replied "This is Naveed Haq." He repeated that this was a hostage situation and said "I
33 want these Jews to get out." He stated he was "at 2031, the Jewish Federation, on 3 Ave, I'm 34 upstairs." Haq stated, "I'm not upset at the people, I'm upset at your foreign policy. These are 35 Jews. I'm tired of getting pushed around, and our people getting pushed around by the situation in 36 the Middle East." When asked again, Haq repeated his name as Naveed Haq and gave his social 37 security number as 288-72-2466. He said, "I just want us to get out of Iraq, I'm an American too 38 but I want our people out of Iraq." Haq said that he had his gun on one person, that she was scared
39 and "I shot her once, I shot her in the arm."

4 When asked what he wanted the 911 operator to do, Haq said he wanted them to call the 5 media. When told he couldn't get us out of Iraq by doing this, Haq said "Call the media, This will 6 make a point." When the 911 operator said they needed to talk with Haq before they could call the 7 media, Haq responded "I have this gun pointed at her head." He said he didn't give a shit about 8 what happened to him. Haq told the operator that the woman was still conscious and had told him
9 that she was pregnant. Haq said that the Muslims are very upset at you (U.S.) sending bombs to 10 Israel and very upset that you (U.S.) stay in Iraq. Haq told the 911 operators he was "acting alone", and that he had not been drinking that day. Haq reiterated that he just wanting to make a point and was tired of everyone not listening to our point of view. He said he was sick and tired of Jewish politicians being in favor of the war. Haq said he wanted there to be some fairness in this country.

11 Haq asked to be connected to CNN. When told that the operator had no ability to connect 12 him, Haq said that he would give himself up. Haq described his clothes for the operator and told 13 the operator that he had put down his gun. Haq allowed Klein to confirm that Haq had put down 14 his gun. Indicating his willingness to walk out, Haq, following the operator instructions, put his 15 hands on this head, walked out of the Federation's offices, down the stairs, and out the doors he 16 had came in. As instructed, Haq laid facedown on the sidewalk and was immediately handcuffed and arrested by Seattle police. Officers recovered a loaded .45 caliber magazine from Haq's pants pocket.

17 Police read Haq his Miranda rights which Haq indicated he understood. When asked, Haq
18 told officers that he had a white Mazda B2500 pick-up truck parked over by Bed Bath and Beyond.
19 A pickup truck registered to Haq was located in that area. Detectives Al Cruise and Russ Weklych 20 transported Haq to the Seattle Police Homicide unit. In route, when asked, Haq indicated that he 21 was not hurt. Subsequent visual inspection of Haq confirmed this. Haq said that he acted alone.
22 He said that he had two guns and a knife and he had dropped all three of those weapons back at the 23 Federation's offices. Haq then said "I am making a statement OK, That's what this is all about."
24 Haq said "This is about the Jews and what they are doing. The Jews are running the country. This is about getting the US out of Iraq. I am an American and I got no problem with America but we have to get out of Iraq. But we give bombs and guns and bunker buster bombs to Israel and we shouldn't be doing it, it's got to stop, that's what this is all about." When he arrived at the Homicide Unit, Detective Dave Duty asked Haq why he had been brought in. Haq replied "I shot somebody and I think I killed them." He further said that he had just driven over from Pasco to do this.

Seattle police detectives recovered two semi-automatic handguns at the scene of the shooting: one .40 caliber and one .45 caliber. Detectives also recovered a knife that Haq had brought with him. Detectives collected 8 spent .40 caliber shell casings at the scene along with 13 live .40 caliber rounds, 8 on the floor, 4 in the .40 caliber gun and 1 in an ammunition box recovered at the scene. Police recovered 43 total .45 caliber rounds, 34 in an ammunition box, 2 live rounds on the floor, and 7 live rounds in the .45 caliber gun.

Currently, Bush, Stombo, and Rexroad remain in serious condition at Harborview Medical Center. All required live-saving surgery and await further surgery to repair their internal organs. A bone in Klein's arm was shattered by the bullet's impact. Goldman was treated for a gunshot wound to the knee.

Under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of Washington, I certify that the foregoing is true and correct. Signed and dated by me this 1st day of August, 2006, at Seattle, Washington.
